THERE WAS SHOOTING.

The Pegie Man Again Gets in His Work on His Antagonist.

There was a scrap and a shoot on the excursion that went from here to Portsmouth on the M. P. W. yesterday.

When the boat was some distance above Vaneburg "Dutch" alias Henry Farwick got into a row with Charlie Foster, a colored gentleman of the pegie way.

Farwick soon drew his gun and fired a shot into Foster's good leg.

Quicker'n the shade of a dead lamb's tail Foster took Farwick's gun from him and literally mopped up the deck of the boat with his clothes.

Fortunately neither party was seriously hurt.

If Mr. Farwick had taken THE LEDGER's advice he would have gone out of his way before he tackled a pegie man.

INSTALLATION SERVICES.

Very Large Attendance Last Evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

Of an unusually interesting character were the services at the First Presbyterian Church last evening, when the Rev. Dr. John Barbour was installed as Pastor in the presence of a very large audience.

On the 16th of February last the Rev. Mr. Barbour was unanimously elected Pastor of the Church, and though in the meantime filling the Pastoral relations, it was not until last evening that he was formally installed by a special Committee.

The Rev. Maurice Waller presided over the meeting, and following was the order of the services, for which neat programs had been distributed:

Organ Voluntary—Mrs. J. Foster Barbour, Accompaniment by Chorus directed by Messrs. E. Robert Blaize, Robert A. Cochran, J. Frank and J. Foster Barbour.

Invocation—Rev. Maurice Waller, D. D.

Reading of the Word of God—Rev. W. C. Condit, D. B. Ashland.

Prayer—Rev. J. C. Molloy.

Solo—Miss Bessie Sutton, Aberdeen.

Scripture—Rev. W. C. Condit.

Hymn—Propounding of Constitutional Questions—Rev. W. Waller.

Charge to the Pastor—Rev. Frank J. Cheek.

Charge to the Deacons—Rev. Frank J. Cheek.

Charge to the Frank Ellis and Miss Bessie Sutton.

Charge to the People—Rev. W. G. Craig, D. L. L. D., Chicago.

All the charges of a nature to be of general interest, were delivered clearly and distinctly, and were characterized by the helpful suggestions that would make a Pastor's life a successful one.

The services, of interest because of their importance, were made more impressive by the excellent music.

Judge A. A. Wadsworth will deliver the Memorial Day address at Aberdeen.

Uncle Sam and Greater America

The census of the United States will be taken in June, 1900; and it is hoped May will secure an Enumerator who knows that 1,600 actual voters means a population of 8,000.

Ex Senator PEPPER, he of the white and black and Kansas, has dropped to the Populist party because of his Free-silver views, has returned to the Republican fold, regarding the money question as settled.

ALTHOUGH Senator DENIOR has tried to create the impression that his candidate for Governor, Attorney General TAYLOR, is the choice of the Adminstration in Washington, it is which seems not to be the case. Collector SAM J. ROBERTS, who is beyond question the closest friend the President has in Kentucky, takes a somewhat different view in the following editorial in his paper, The Lexington Leader:

"The Leader regrets to note that one of the most popular candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor of Kentucky has been proclaimed as the officially endorsed and recognized candidate of the National Administration, and that the People's Political Committee, the personal choice of President McKNELLY and Chairman HANNA."

"The Leader refers to its logical sequence, such a proclamation arrays the opposing candidates for Governor in antagonism to the National Administration, and breaks as many as President McKNELLY and all the publicans who for personal or political reasons prefer some one else to the so-called 'Administration candidate.'

"President McKNELLY and Chairman HANNA have confidence in the ability of Kentucky Republicans to nominate and elect a man who will bring about such a glorious consummation will be esteemed true friends of President McKNELLY and the National Administration, and that the other candidates and their supporters are disposed to the great National cause."

"Auditor W. S. STONE, Attorney General W. S. TAYLOR and Judge C. J. PRATT, who now seem to make up the Adminstration ticket for Governor, are all honorable, patriotic men, loyal to President McKNELLY and the National Administration, and those who seek and worthy of the support of every Republican in Kentucky."

"With a fair and open contest and a courageous and honest administration, the beginning of the Lexington Convention, be it TAYLOR, PRATT or STONE, will lead the Republicans to victory in November, and the most popular brand of Republicans will be the most popular in the state."

"'Shall we now, when party unity means so much, encourage further factional strife by creating an Administration party and the use of supporters of the supporters of President McKNELLY into the attitude of disloyalty to him? simply to make the election a farce? or do we, that have disrupted the Republican party in Kentucky for the past four years?"

"The Leader's attitude is one of absolute neutrality, and regardless of personal preferences. They are all high-class men, and the nomination of either would be creditable to the party and administration. Hence comes in the coming campaign."

"Let Republicans support their favor in the election, and let the administration as they feel like putting into the contest, but in the name of harmony and in the hope of success let there be no division of the party between administration and anti-administration factions."

"The Administration has no candidate for Governor."

Frankfort, Ky., May 22.—Incorporation articles have been filed in the office of the secretary of state by Miller & Miller, bankers of Barboursville. The capital stock of the company is fixed at $10,000. The chief incorporators are George and James S. Miller.

Noted Barber Dying.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 22.—Henry H. Holliday, of the well-known firm of Kentucky's barbers, is dying of Bright's disease at the Good Samaritan hospital. Heper was born in Louisville in 1833.

NEWS IN KENTUCKY.

NOT A SHOT WAS FIRED.

Maj. Bryant Disputes Charges that Members of the 3d Kentucky Acted Badly, and Makes Counter-Charges.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 22.—Maj. Jas. C. Bryant, who arrived home last week with several detachments of the 3d Kentucky regiment, mustered out at Frankfort, Ky., disputed the charge that the men acted badly in their route home. He said Sunday morning:

"I have just received a letter from Col. Smith telling me that a soldier returned home on the section of the train with me fired off his pistol while passing out of Chattanooga, and that the shot killed a horse. I have made a thorough investigation and find that the statement is untrue."

"They never fired a gun while passing through any town or city, and their treatment of women was kind and respectful at all times. To show that this statement is not exaggerated, while the boys have been badly treated by the officials of the Georgia & Alabama railroad, who gave us the meanest of accommodations, I will but refer to the condition of the cars bringing here. The cars were dirty, and the men were treated like animals. The officials caused us to go by the railroads to Nashville, 200 or 250 miles out of our way, and because they were refused we were crowded into three many coaches. The men protested against such treatment, and it is true, made a great many threats. These threats had their effect, too, for more cars were given us."

To Form a New Regiment.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., May 22.—A new regiment of state guards is to be formed at once. It is said Col. T. J. Smith, the old commander, will be re-elected colonel. Many of the old 3d who saw service in Cuba have signified a willingness to join, but a great many others say they have had enough military experience to last them a life time. The regiment will seek to be called the 3d and hope not to be thrown down as the 1st was by a change of command.

Crops Damaged by Rain.

KUTTAWA, Ky., May 22.—The heavy rainfall in this section during the past few weeks has done considerable damage, especially to the farmers, who have been greatly delayed with their spring work, and very little, if any, planting has been done. Only a small acreage of tobacco ground has been prepared, and unless there is a decrease in the rainfall the crop this year will be considerably less than that of 1898.

Steel Frame Work Fell.

NEWPORT, Ky., May 22.—The new car barn, the work of the Cincinnati & Lexington Convention, to be the beginning of the Lexington Convention, by TAYLOR, PRATT or STONE, will lead the Republicans to victory in November, and the most popular brand of Republicans will be the most popular in the state.

Prof. Shackford Resigns.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 22.—Prof. T. J. Shackford, who had held the chair of English and logic for 29 years in the Kentucky State college, has resigned, his resignation to take effect July 1. He leaves the college with good will toward everybody. He simply wants rests from years of toil.

Boxed Up Four Days.

OWENSBORO, Ky., May 22.—Charles Doris, a Negro race horse man, was found here in a boxcar after being without food or drink for four days, with a well-developed case of smallpox. He is under surveillance and is being treated by the city physicians.

The Leader's attitude is one of absolute neutrality, and regardless of personal preferences. They are all high-class men, and the nomination of either would be creditable to the party and administration.

"Let Republicans support their favor in the election, and let the administration as they feel like putting into the contest, but in the name of harmony and in the hope of success let there be no division of the party between administration and anti-administration factions."

"The Administration has no candidate for Governor."

"We do not know the paper you read, and I have never had business with the gentleman who is the United States Vice-Consul here, so I won't cash your drafts. You say J. S. Morgan will endorse them? You had better go up to London and let him cash them."

Mr. Clark went out to the telegraph office, put himself in communication with Mr. Morgan, and Mr. Morgan went to the Bank of England in London, the manager sent word to him to go to the Royal Hotel, and with his hat in his hand, bound to be of service to Paymaster Clark in any way that gentleman would suggest. The apparently placid Paymaster, followed by his clerk, accompanied the officer to the bank. The drafts were duly passed over and a large bundle of Bank of England notes placed before the Paymaster.

"What are these?" said Clark.

"Those are Bank of England notes."

"Yes, I see they are notes signed by Frederick May, that the bank will pay bearer, etc. Well, I do not know Mr. May, and, of course, I do not know you. This paper may be good, but I do not know of that I'll charge you for the gold."

The humiliated bank manager had to hunt it up, and Paymaster Clark carried it down to the boat in triumph. "I would have preferred part of the money in notes," he said, "but I couldn't refuse the chance of getting even."

$100—Reward—$100.

THE CITY OF PARIS

American Line Steamer Struck an Outlying Ridge of the Manacles and is Fast.

SHE RAN ASHORE IN A DENSE FOG.

Passengers to the Number of 300 Were Taken From the Paris by Life Boats and Tugs.

An Effort Was Made Sunday Afternoon by Three Tugs and a Steer Hawser to Tow the Steamer Off—The Attempt was Unsuccessful.

FAULMOUTH, May 23.—The American line steamer Paris, Capt. Watkins, from Southampton and Charlbourg for New York, struck an outlying ridge of the Manacles early Saturday morning at a point half a mile from where the wrecked Atlantic transport liner Mohegan lies and five miles from Falmouth.

The Paris, which sailed for Southampton Saturday, called at Cherbourg and picked up 50 passengers. She left Cherbourg at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Soon after 1 o'clock Sunday morning, as the vessel made her dense fog she ran ashore. From the first there was no danger. Life boats and tugs were soon literally swarming around the vessel to render assistance. A majority of the passengers, who numbered 300, were brought to Falmouth where they obtained lodgings for the night.

Capt. Watkins reported that his ship was in no danger, smooth water and that there was no occasion for any alarmist reports. He reported the passengers and crew all well.

The first intimation of the vessel's striking the rocks was a slight grating sound which was followed by a second and more pronounced shock. The lookout shouted that there was something looming ahead, but before there was time to reverse the engines the ship had struck the rock and was yards from the shore. Assistance was summoned by means of rockets and the coast guards promptly telephoned to the life-saving station for boats.

A majority of the passengers were not aware that their ship had happened until they were called up by the steward. On reaching the deck they found the ship's boat in perfect readiness to receive them. The sea was perfectly calm and the only disturbance was that the passengers experienced uneasiness by the slight rain that was falling at the time. Owing to the calmness of the sea the boats could be managed with perfect safety. Perfect order prevailed aboard the vessel. Capt. Watkins stood on the bridge giving orders and his perfect coolness and calmness of demeanour was a source of comfort to the passengers. In accordance with the instruction of the captain the women and children were the first to be taken off the ship. Such perfect order was maintained that a passenger described the scene as simply a slow procession of women and children walking in single file to the boats.

At daybreak the crew of the vessel would be better described as brilliant Saint Anthony light at the entrance of Falmouth harbor could be distinguished plainly through the misty rain and the still standing masts of the ill-fated Mohegan could be seen near by.

It is said that a Falmouth pilot boat showed a warning signal to the Paris telling the captain that he would put the vessel on the rocks. However, he did not alter the course of the ship. The warning, however, came too late, and the Paris struck on a ridge to the westward of the Manacles. It is suggested that this is only their second trip from Cherbourg the officers of the Paris were not familiar with the course.

The crew of the Paris are still aboard the vessel. It is believed that the steamer has a large rent in her bottom in the forward part of the ship. The crew are standing by her and will assist in an effort to get her off the rocks.

Further details of the disaster show that when the vessel struck the crew were summoned on deck. The passengers upon appearing were met in the company way with comforting words and assurances of safety. Extra coals were shown on deck, the stews distributing coffee and stimulants to those who desired them. Capt. Watkins had his gig lowered and rowed ashore in order to telegraph to Falmouth for tugs to assist his ship. In the meantime rockets were sent up and signal guns were fired.

When dawn broke every one on board was relieved to find the shore on one side and life boats lying near by on the other. The vessel lay with her head to the southwest, the reversing of her engines having put her broadside on to the rocks. Happily the sea was smooth and there was no wind.

FAULMOUTH, May 22.—An effort was made Sunday afternoon to tow the Paris off the rocks. Three tugs were sent to the scene, the full power of the steamer's steel hawsers, her own engines assisting for half an hour. The attempt was entirely unsuccessful, the steamer not budging an inch.

REBELS SHELLED.

Capt. Frank's Gunboats Dispersed the Insurgents Before San Luis on Saturday.

ARE HARRASSED BY SHARPSHOOTERS.

The Rebels, on the Appearance of Col. Kobb's Expedition Retreated Beyond Candaba.

Natives Who Had Assembled on the River Bank Crowded About the Americans With Expressions of Friendship—Flags Displayed.

MANILA, May 22.—Col. Kobb's expedition up the Rio Grande river met with no resistance except at the outskirts of San Luis, where several hundred Filipinos were entrenched on the banks of the stream. The rebels retreated beyond Candaba and the gunboats steamed up the river, the rebels scattering upon the banks and keeping shells wherever uniforms appeared on the shore. The gunboats dispersed the insurgents before San Luis. After they had passed sharpshooters from the trees across the river, about a hundred yards distant, harassed the 17th infantry, which was marching by fours along the river bank. The rebels, however, were unable to see the enemy. The members of one battalion laid on their faces in the road for a quarter of an hour trying to locate the riflemen and return the fire. Two Americans were wounded.

The road wound close to the stream and was thickly settled. It was a picture-squre. Many groups of human figures, all in uniform, were seen in the trees on the opposite banks, displaying white shirts, towels, sheets, or anything white on poles. Some shouted welcomes to the American soldiers, but most of them maintained a silent silence. An old man in a carriage met the troops two miles outside of the town. He said: "I have lived in England and I have told the people that the Americans are like the English and that they are here to stay."

Capt. Frank, in command of the gunboats, landed before the rebels and met and received a "Poco Rican" welcome. The natives who had assembled on the shore crowded about the Americans, with expressions of friendship, apparently half afraid that they would be massacred. Autonomy is the burden of the talk of the Filipinos, and it is thought that the kind they wish would be little different from the scheme of an American protectorate which they talked of before the war.

Senior Paterno, who has succeeded the irreconcilable Mabino as president of the Filipino so-called cabinet, is a student and writer here. He is engaged in a plan of autonomy under which the Spanish government promised to adopt, there then being a troublesome rebellion on foot. The American commissioners, in studying the question of Philippine government, have found several good points in this scheme. Paterno is now the strong man in Aguinaldo's party.

All the moneyed leaders of the insurgents are anxious for peace. Those who want money think they may profit by harassing the American a while longer. On the suggestion of Mr. Schurman, president of the American commission, the local Filipino prince has started a newspaper.

FLOTSAM—JETSAM—LIGAN!

NEWSY NOTES FROM NATURE'S GREAT HIGHWAY.

The Henry M. Stanley will go to Pomeroy tonight.

Everything that is loaded at Pittsburgh will go on this rise.

The Pittsburgh packet Queen City passed up Saturday night with a big trip of passengers.

The City of Pittsburgh passed up Saturday afternoon from Louisville for Pittsburgh. She is now getting down to business on the river.

The record of the City of Louisville has been washed off the slate again by the City of Cincinnati. A new boat only five weeks old, sailing slack for fuel and a swift current to go against, ran from Louisville to Madison, 50 miles, in 10 hours and 25 minutes. The Louisville will have to hurry up.

The immense new model-boat which Captain Oscar Barrett is building at Madison is now like a giant. The hull is 100 feet long, 16 inches wide, a good deal a steamboat hull. It has a bow and stern and can be hitched much more readily and safely than the barges that are sharp at both ends, yet will tow easily.

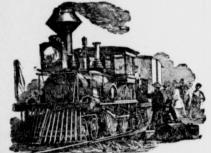

The following towboats are on their way from Pittsburgh, having left there Friday night: Jim Wood, 15 coalboats; Cruiser, 10 coalboats; Charge Hook, 5 coalboats; Valiant, 10 barges; and the new boat, 10 barges; 8 coalboats; 7 barges; John A. Wood, 12 coalboats; 2 barges, a total of 1,102,000 bushels of coal. There will be shipped on this trip 14,000 bushels of coal.

At Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon the towboat James Moran and 21 pieces, including 4 barges of cotton ties, was towed away from her landing in the West End and thence down the river. For a second time Ornamental China on stock discounts the best. A few days ago she was not hitched into her tow. The craft crept into the landing of Joseph Walton and Co. The head of the market, Walton and Co., have in their store a new piece of furniture which is a beauty. It was a seat. The two chairs were taken out into the channel and the John C. Fisher, Joseph Walton and John Dipple went impudent and merrily landed it.

Unless a woman eats sufficient nourishing food she can neither gain nor keep a good complexion. She must have a good supply of all health, all strength and all beauty. Herbine will help digest what you eat and give you the clear, bright, beautiful skin of health. Price 30 and 35 cents. J. James Wood & Son.

An Epidemic of Whooping Cough. Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough, which was very common, the Geo. F. Brown & Co. had a special remedy for whooping cough, which was very successfully for crowd and naturally turned to it at that time and found that it relieved the cough and stopped the fits. The remedy is a mixture of Dr. J. J. Wadsworth, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

Henry Lybrook, 66, and Mrs. Harriet B. Hartinger, 60, of Greenup county, married at Portsmouth last week. This is the third marriage for each of the two.

It is reported from Honolulu that just before the battleship Oregon sailed from that port for Manila the mascot pig Blance, which was captured from the Spanish cruiser Cristobal Colon during the engagement of Santiago, was sold to a New York firm.

It seems that Blance's hoofs were wearing off on the hard decks of the Oregon, and it was thought best to send the Spanish pig to the San Francisco Zoo.

Nothing has ever been produced to equal or compare with B. B. Sample's Biscuit or Biscuit & Biscuit. It is a nutritive and healing application for Piles, Fissures, Blind and Bleeding, External or Internal, and Itching and Bleeding of the Rectum. The remedy is simple and safe and cure infallible. Price 50 cents in bottles, 75 cents in tubes. J. James Wood & Son.

Extreme Cured by B. B. Sample Biscuit Free.

For you men, women, young, middle-aged, or old, with skin, skin rash, and an itching heat, with or without sores, on legs, arms, hands, neck or face? Then take B. B. which will cure you. It is a nutritive and healing application for Piles, Fissures, Blind and Bleeding, External or Internal, and Itching and Bleeding of the Rectum. The remedy is simple and safe and cure infallible. Price 50 cents in bottles, 75 cents in tubes. J. James Wood & Son.

Any form of eczema is due to diseased blood. Get the diseased blood out with B. B., and then the skin will be healthy again. It is good for old sores, and can be a fine tonic, and cures when soaves, washes and other remedies fail. Children are very frequently afflicted with eczema. Sores, discharge and a yellowish discharge, and a great deal of pain and mild doses of B. B. and the sores will soon heal. B. B. for sale by druggists at $1 per large bottle. Addictive Balm $1.10 Mitchell, Atchison, Kas., and sample bottle of B. B. B. B. to be sent by return mail.
